

Call for Nominations of German Scholars for the CSIR-Humboldt Reciprocity Research Award for 2008

Council of Scientific & Industrial Research (CSIR) invites nominations from Institutes under major scientific agencies and Institutes of National Importance in Academic Sector of eminent German scholars to spend 2 weeks to 4 months (extendable upto one year) at the research institutions in India. Entire expenditure towards travel and stay will be provided by CSIR.

Call for Nominations of German Scholars for the CSIR-Humboldt Reciprocity Research Award for 2008

CSIR has an Agreement with Humboldt Foundation, Germany for granting the CSIR-Humboldt Reciprocity Award to internationally renowned researchers of India and Germany annually in the disciplines of science and engineering in recognition of their internationally renowned past achievements in research and for promoting cooperation between India and Germany. Under this programme the award is granted to two Indian and two German experts annually to work on the research projects at their host institutes in the counterpart country. The award entitles the German award winner to spend short term/long term research stay at the Indian R&D institutions. This prestigious award is intended as a lifelong tribute to the past academic/research accomplishments of the award winners. (Information on nomination procedure for Indian experts may be downloaded from website www.humboldt-foundation.de)

The Alexander von Humboldt Foundation (AvH) promotes an active world-wide network of scholars. In addition to India Humboldt Foundation operates such Reciprocity Award Programmes with partner organisations in various countries like Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Denmark, Finland, France, Hungary, Israel, Japan, Korea, the Netherlands, Poland, South Africa, Spain, Sweden.

The German award winners are invited to carry out research projects of his/her own choice, which may be prepared in consultation with the Indian host institute and should be relevant to and falling in the priority/thrust areas of CSIR.

Value of Research Award

CSIR would provide international travel and hospitality in India as per the following details :

- 1) Per diem amount : Rs 36,000 per month (Rs 1200 per day)
- 2) Accommodation : in good CSIR Guest house / 3-4 star hotel wherever guest house accommodation not available.
- 3) Travel : Round trip airfare only once. Inter-city travel to relevant CSIR institute by air (economy) and train (first class a/c), where ever air connections are not available/not convenient.
- 4) Travel expenses for family: Roundtrip travel expenses upto the CSIR host institute for spouses and children aged under 18 years if accompanying the Awardee for a minimum of 4 months. CSIR can provide coordination assistance in organizing their visits to other cities in India.
- 5) Participation in Conference etc.: Only active participation of German Awardees in the relevant conferences/workshops in India will be supported on request by the host CSIR institutes.

Duration of stay

The award winners are invited to participate in the research activities of the Indian host R&D institutes and to carry out research projects in cooperation with the Indian colleagues for periods from 2 weeks to 4 months and extendable upto one year. Visits with longer duration will be preferred. The awardee must stay minimum for 2/3rd of his/her stay at the host CSIR institute.

Nomination Requirements

Full professors and scholars of equivalent status engaged in non-university/applied research from the disciplines of priority of CSIR may be nominated for the Humboldt Research Award. The academic qualifications of the nominee must be internationally recognized and documented by proven success in research such as positive responses to the nominee's published work and previous distinctions.

The nominating scientist/institute is required to guarantee that sufficient infrastructure, material, equipment and the assisting staff are available and access to archives and libraries is assured, enabling nominees to successfully carry out research projects. Indian hosts must make all necessary arrangements for award winners' research visit to India and be responsible for their well being (e.g. arranging accommodation, travel etc).

Nomination Procedure

CSIR makes call for proposals only once a year for inviting nominations of German Scholars for CSIR-Humboldt Research Award. The applications must be made as per the prescribed format and submitted to CSIR HQs. Decision on nominations is made by CSIR Selection Committee, which meets only once a year.
