Sir,

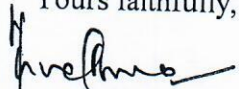

Recently in the press, allegations have surfaced on plagiarism and image manipulation/ duplication involving some CSIR Labs.

This is to bring to the attention of all that CSIR conforms to the highest ethical standards in scientific research and publications. In order to uphold these standards, a Committee has been formed to draw up guidelines on the subject and these guidelines, once formulated and approved will be circulated for compliance.

In view of CSIR's commitment to the highest ethical standards in scientific research and publications, all the Scientists and Researchers in CSIR are expected to uphold these ethical standards.

This issues with the approval of DG, CSIR and may be brought to the notice of all Scientists/Researchers in your Lab/Instt.

Yours faithfully,
