

Bio-Eco Engineering system for Greywater treatment and reuse

The NOWA integrated Bio-Eco engineering system is developed for treating and reusing household greywater. Compared with existing technologies this system requires less (30-40%) space and it can handle high strength greywater. Presently one 10 KLD unit is operational in NIIST campus treating the NIIST staff quarters greywater and reusing the treated water for gardening and agriculture in NIIST campus.